Just two quick tidbits to share. The number one selling professional football jersey as of today, is worn by the Pittsburgh Steelers player and veteran who left his team in the locker room and stood on the field to respect and honor our flag and National Anthem. "Making America Great Again". Thanks to President Trump and his team, it is working. Also, the Immigrants Assistance Center in New Bedford was advertising that they would be holding a session to help DACA designees reapply for their status. They were apparently getting a great deal of calls, motivating them to provide the assistance. Nobody showed up! Hope all is well. Will forward the Boston Globe's Sunday Feature about my support of the President and his agenda, which is entitled "Trumpachusetts". Who would have thought The Globe would acknowledge that the President's agenda is alive and well in the liberal bookend of America! Keep up the good work!
